Dear Sir — You must excuse me for having lost your kind invitation to address the Society of Inquiry, and with it your address; and for the delay, of which I have been guilty in answering you. This has been caused by the utter uncertainty of our movements hitherto.

By consulting with Dr. Hodge you will learn when I shall find it most convenient to address your Society. I hope to be in Princeton by Friday evening, and must have arrangements to be made by you and your friends.

I shall be happy to do any thing I can, either to promote the cause of Missions, or to gratify a Christian curiosity.

Yours most truly
